

SUMMER UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH PROGRAM ON HEALTH DISPARITIES (SURPHD)

DEADLINE TO APPLY: February 8th, 2019

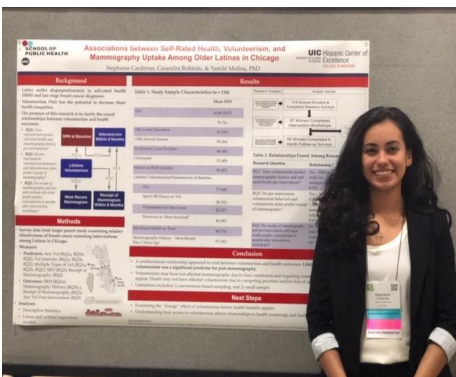

DURATION OF PROGRAM: June 3rd, 2019-August 8th, 2019

The Summer Undergraduate Research Program on Health Disparities (SURPHD) was established in 2009 by the UIC College of Medicine. SURPHD is a research initiative to provide highly talented and motivated junior and senior undergraduate Latinos with a rich experience in healthcare and biomedical research. This intensive 10-week summer research program aims to improve the quality of healthcare by providing students with practical knowledge of research studies and its importance in the healthcare field. SURPHD pays students to conduct research.

SURPHD Requirements

- Complete all sections of the application
- Provide a copy of official school transcripts
- Provide one letter of recommendation from faculty, teacher or advisor. Have recommender sign, scan, and email letter to pguzman7@uic.edu
- Complete two essays located at the end of the application. Submit as separate document.
- Provide Resume or CV
- Formal interview by invitation only

SURPHD Eligibility & Responsibilities

- Must have rising junior or rising senior standing with a pre-medical educational goal at an accredited college/university
- Be in good academic standing (minimum 3.0 GPA on 4.0 pt. scale)
- Must make a commitment of ten weeks
- Must attend program orientation (week of May 27th, 2019), weekly research seminars, and complete exit interview
- Develop and present a scientific presentation and paper
- Shadow research mentor and participate in associated research responsibilities
- Work at a preceptor site Monday-Friday 30-35hrs/week
- Meet with assigned graduate student mentor once a week

APPLICATION AVAILABLE AT:

<https://goo.gl/RJYMnz>

For More Information Send an Email to: pguzman7@uic.edu

Hispanic Center of Excellence